Introduction
by Zubair Alee Zai

We begin with the name of Allaah who is the Most Merciful, the Bestower of Mercy. To proceed:

Sahi ibn Sa’d, may Allaah be pleased with him, reported, “The people were ordered to place their right hand upon their left forearm.” (Saheeh al-Bukhaaree, 1/102)

We can understand from this hadeeth that one should fold one’s hand whilst in Salaah. Of course if the left hand were to be placed upon the left forearm as stated above then naturally, the hands would rest on the chest.

The forearm here means the finger region of the hand right up to the elbow. In another hadeeth it is reported that, “He ( ﷺ) placed his right hand upon his left hand, wrist and forearm.” (Sunan Nassa’I with the footnotes of Allaamah Sindhee (1/141), Abu Dawood (1/112), Ibn Khuzaimah (1/243, 480) and Ibn Hibbaan (p.485) have all authenticated this narration).

The understanding of the above narrations is further reinforced by the hadeeth, “He used to place his hand upon his chest ...” to the end of the narration. (Musnad Ahmad (5/226) with this wording also At-Tahqeeq of Ibn Hibbaan al-Jawzee (1/283) and (1/338) in manuscript form).

This matter is further reported in many narrations which my respected teacher, Shaikh Muhammad Badee’ud-Deen Shah Ar-Raashidee ( ﷺ) has collated and analysed in this treatise.

Generally, according to the scholars of hadeeth, the narrations which are put forth by the Deobandi’s, Bareilwi’s and other branches of the Hanafi, according to the scholars of Hadeeth are all weak and rejected. One such narration possibly the one which is most frequently used, is of a report in Sunan Abeed Dawood (p. 756). This narration includes ’Abdur-Rahmaan ibn Ishaq al-Koofee, who is unanimously known amongst the scholars to be weak.

One may refer to classical Hanafi texts such as Nasbur-Rayah of Zailee (1/314), Al-Banaaya Fee Sharh Hidaayah (2/208) and others. In actual fact, it is mentioned in the notes to the book Hidaayah al-Awlaayn, (no. 17, 1/103) that this narration is, “… weak by consensus.”

Further, it should be known that the Deobandis have tampered with Musannaf Ibn Abeed Shaybah, by adding the words, “… below the navel,” whereas the actual manuscript and various prints of Musannaf Ibn Abeed Shaybah are free from any such addition.

Then a strange twist to this matter is the saying of the Hanafees that, “Men should place their hands below the navel and that women should place theirs upon their chest.” SubhaanAllaah! There is no proof for this statement from any hadeeth - either authentic or weak - and nor is there any consensus upon such a distinction. In spite of this, all Hanafees are agreed upon this matter and practice it in their prayers.

Whilst reading the Shaikhul-Arab wal-Ajam’s (the Shaikh of Arabs and non-Arabs) treatise, the reader is to take careful note of the fact that, in this book, the Shaikh has laid down a challenge that the Hanafees, Deobandis and Bareilwi’s have yet to answer.

May Allaah make this treatise a means of guidance and Sadaqah Jaariyyah.

The Text

We say the prayer is the principal way to worship Allaah, the Almighty, and when a person stands in prayer, then, “He secretly converses with his Lord.” [Muslim (1/208)].

This is why no act should be performed within the Prayer which may conflict with good and suitable mannerisms. Rather, the Prayer should be offered with such humility that the fear of Allaah and taqwa become apparent. Then it should be known that from man’s body, the heart is perceived as being of the greatest importance. As the great Prophet (ﷺ) said, “There is a piece of flesh in the body, if it sounds and upright the whole body remains upright. If this part becomes corrupt then the whole body becomes corrupt. Verily this is the Heart.” (Mishkaat (2/241)

Then the heart is in proximity to the chest and is the abode of taqwa as is mentioned in a hadith, “The Prophet pointed towards his chest and said thrice, “Taqwa and protection are here.”” (Muslim (2/317) with Nawawee)

This is why he (ﷺ) would place his hands upon the chest. It is the way to show absolute humility. The one praying should stand in front of his Lord with such an action and this is what is most befitting. Allaamah Shaikh Sa’dee Sheyrazee has also mentioned similar reasoning in very eloquent poetry prose.

There is no basis in hadeeth for the action of those people who are accustomed to placing their hands below the navel. In actual fact, such an action displays disrespect and, if one were to place ones hands upon the navel to welcome a respected person today, then he would be looked upon in a bad light. How then can one stand in such a position in front of the King of all kings? Rather a person should place his hands upon his chest with all humility offering his heart to his Lord. This was also the practice and method of the Prophet of Allaah.

This is a short treatise which is written for the general people so that they may attain guidance. I hope that this will become a means of guidance and Allaah is the One who guides.

To Proceed: There are some ahadeeth which are mentioned in regard to this important matter of where the hands are to be placed during the prayer.

Hadeeth No. 1
Abu Haazim Sahil ibn Sa’d Saadee narrates that all those people praying (Companions) were ordered to place their right hand upon the left forearm and elbow. Salmah ibn Deenaaar mentioned that I understood this narration to be marfoo in reaching the Prophet.

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
It is sufficient that this hadeeth is recorded in Saheeh al-Bukhaari because the ahadeeth in Bukhaari have a special grade of authenticity compared to all other ahadeeth and this is also the decision of the Scholars of this Ummah. (Sharh Nukhbah p.224 and Tadreeb ar-Raawee of Suyootee p.25 and others).

Further Imaam Ibn Hazm in Al-Muhalla (4/114) and Ibn Qayyim in A’laam al-Muwaqiqeen (2/6, Indian print) have declared this narration authentic.

Explanation
This hadeeth is marfoo as is stated by the narrator Abu Haazim and who other than the Prophet could have given such an order? This is why Haafidh Ibn Haajr has said in his Fathul-Baari (2/124, Salafia Print) and Allaamah Ainee in his Undatul Qaari (5/278, Al-Muneeriyyah Print) that this narration is marfoo and that this hadeeth is proof to place the hands upon the chest because when the right hand is placed upon the left arm and elbow then the hands will not be able to drift below the chest.

This method should be tried by the reader to see what happens and then the matter will become clear, if Allaah wills.
Hadeeth No. 2
Waail ibn Hujr narrates that, “I prayed with the Prophet and he placed his right hand upon his left on his chest.” (Saheeh ibn Khuzaimah, 1/243).

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
Imaam Ibn Khuzaimah, in relation to his Saheeh ibn Khuzaimah, states at the very beginning the condition that, “This is a compilation of authentic ahadeeth which go right back to the Prophet with authentic and complete chains of narration. No narrator in the chains is unknown nor is there any broken chain of narration.” (Ibn Khuzaimah, 1/2).

This proves that this narration is absolutely authentic and free from deficiency. Further it is mentioned by Imaam Nawawee in his explanation of Saheeh Muslim, (4/115, Egyptian print), in Sharhul-Muhazzab (3/315), Haafidh ibn Sayyid in An-Naas in An-Nafkhush Shuzaa (2/211), Haafidh Shamsud-Deen ibn Abdul Haadee al-Maqdissee in Al-Muhaarar il-Hadeeth, (p. 44), Haafidh Zailee in Nasbur-Raayah (1/314), Ibn Hajr in Fathul-Baari (2/224), Talkhees al-Habeer (1/224, Egyptian), Ad-Darayyah Fee Takheef Al-Hadeeth al-Hidaayah (1/128, Egyptian), and in Bulooqh al-Maraam (p. 55), Allamaah Ainee Hanafee in Umtdatal-Qaareee (5/379, Al-Muneeriyah Print), Imaam Shawkaanee in Naiy al-Awtaar (2/115), Allamaah Mujadidul-Deen Fairozabadee in Safar as-Sa‘dah, Allamaah al-Murtada az-Zubaidee Hanafee in Agoodul-Jawaahir al-Muneefah (1/59) - (these) and others have all reported this hadeeth.

Further, Imaam Ibn Sayyid an-Naas, Haafidh Ibn Hajr, Allamaah Ainee and Allamaah Shawkaanee have all declared this narration authentic. Likewise, Mulaa Qaam Siddhe in his Riisalah Fauz al-Kiraam and Muhammad Hashim Siddhe in Dirham us-Surrah have stated this hadeeth to be authentic (saheeh).

Also, Ibn Nujaym Hanafee in Al-Bahr ar-Raqaai’iq, Allamaah Abuul Hasan al-Kabbeer as-Sidheee in Fathul-Wadeed Sharh Abee Dawood, Allamaah Muhammad Hayaat Siddhe in his Fathul-Ghafoor and my respected grandfather Abu Turaab Raashidullaah Shah Raashidee in his Darjuh-Duuroor have all stated this hadeeth to be authentic (saheeh).

It can be seen then that this hadeeth in its chain of narration and meaning, is clear as it informs us that the Sunnah of the Prophet is to place the hands upon the chest in the prayer.

Hadeeth No. 3
Qabiysa ibn Hulb the Taaballee narrates from his father Hulb, may Allaah be pleased with him, that, “I saw the Prophet and he was turning to his right and left in the prayer and I saw that, in the prayer, he would place his right hand upon his left on his chest.” (Musnad Imaam Ahmad, 5/226)

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
The chain of narration of this hadeeth is saheeh as was stated by Imaam ibn Sayyid An-Naas in Sharh Tirmidhee and Haafidh Ibn Hajr in Fathul-Baari. Allamaah Nimaweet Hanafee in Aathaaros-Sunan, (1/67) has also admitted that the chain of narration is, “Saheeh.”

Further, Allamaah Muhaddith Abdur-Rahmaan Mubarakpoor in Tuhfatul-Ahwadee the explication of Tirmidhee writes, “All the narrators in this chain of narration are reliable/respected and this chain is complete.”

Hadeeth No. 4
Waail, may Allaah be pleased with him, narrates, “I saw that the Prophet (in prayer), placed his right hand upon his left, putting them on his chest.” (Reported in Tabqaataal-Muhadditheen bi Asbahaane Al Abee Shaykh, (1/148) manuscript form and Bahaaeee (2/35)).

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
My grandfather, in his treatise Darjuh Duuroor, states, “This narration is at the level of Hasan.”
Hadeeth No. 5
Taawoo Yamanee the Taab'ee narrates that, "The Prophet (ﷺ) whilst within the prayer would place his right hand upon the left on his chest." (Mentioned in the Maraseel of Abu Dawood, p. 6 Egyptian print and Pakistani print and in Ma'rafah as-Sunan Wal-Aathaar (1/197)).

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
Imaam Taawoos is a famous Taab'ee this is why this hadeeth is mursal, that is, it reaches a Taab'ee. Nevertheless the Hanafee's accept the mursal narrations without any problems seeing that some schools of thought put conditions upon accepting them. The Imaam of the Hanafee Madhhab, Imaam Sarkhasee writes, "Those mursal narrations which are of the 2nd and 3rd generations, according to our Hanafee Ulama are accepted as proof and evidence." (Stated in kitaab ul-Usool (1/360), likewise Noor ul-Anwaar (p.150) also mentions the same).

Further Muhammad Hashim Tahtawe Haneef in his treatise, Kashfud-Deen p.17, states that, "The mursal narration is acceptable to us Anhaaf as a proof." Allaama Hafiz Hamza Hanafi in Fathul-Qadeer, the explanation of Hidaayah (1/239) states the same.

The reader should note that the Scholars of Hadeeth also accept the mursal narration when there are other narrations mentioning and affirming the same. So, as regards this matter of placing the hands upon the chest, there are other complete and authentic narrations present, and this narration may also be utilised as a proof consolidating the same.

In actual fact, all the reporters in this chain of narration are respected and authentic and one must also remember that Imaam Balhaaqee in his Ma'rafah as-Sunan wal-Athaar, Allaamah Muhammad Hayaat Sindhee in Fathul-Ghafoor and the book Darjud-Duroor and Allaamah Mubaarakpoor in Tafsirul Ahwadhee (1/216) have all mentioned the same.

Hadeeth No. 6
Waa'il ibn Hujr, may Allaah be pleased with him, narrates, "I came to the Prophet (ﷺ) and he (ﷺ) proceeded toward the mosque and then entered the mihraab. Therein, he said, "Allahu Akbar," whilst lifting his hands. He then placed his right hand upon his left on his chest." (This is mentioned in Sunan Kubraa (2/36), Mujima'uz-Zawaa'id (2/124) and also by Tabaraanee in Kabeer (22/50).

Authenticity of the Hadeeth
Ibn Hajar in Fathul-Baari (2/224, Salafia print) has mentioned this narration, quoting from Musnad Bazzaar. In his introduction, p. 4, he has stated the condition that all the narrations he brings in his explanation to Bukhaari will either be authentic or hasan. It therefore stands to reason that this narration according to Haafidh Ibn Hajar is either saheeh or hasan.

In addition to this the author of Darjood Duroor has concluded that this Hadeeth is accepted. Furthermore Allaamah Dhaafar Ahmad Uthmaan Thawwab Deobandi Hanafi in his Anhaas-Sakan p.22 has stated that, "All the narrations recorded by Ibn Hajar in Fathul-Baari upon which he makes no criticism will be seen as saheeh or hasan according to Ibn Hajar."

Proof from the Quuran and Hadeeth No. 7
Taken from Ibn Abeed Shaybah, Bukhaari in his Taareekh, Ibn Jareer, Ibn Mundhir, Ibn Abeed Haatim, Daarqunee in Afraad, Abush-Shaykh, al-Haakim, Ibn Mardawiah and Balhaaqee in his Sunan who report from Alee, may Allaah be pleased with him, that the explanation of the aayah:

is, "To place the right hand upon the left, middle part of the forearm, placing the hands upon the chest." (This is stated in Tafeer Dar Darr al-Manaaheer of Suyooti (6/403) and Tafeer Fathul Qadeer of Shaukaane (5/49).

Authenticity
My grandfather in Darjood Duroor has proven this hadeeth to be hasan and one may seek further clarity therein.
Explanation

Alee, may Allaah be pleased with him, was famous for his understanding of the Arabic language, so this explanation of his ought to be most readily accepted. The famous book of language Taaj-ul-Uroos (3/556) states the same explanation of the word, “Wanhar,” and it should also be noted that this hadeeth is narrated not only from a single Companion, but as you will read later, other Companions give the same explanation of this aayah. Indeed, it is actually this explanation which Imaam Abu Abdullah al-Haakim prefers (see al-Mustadrak (3/537)).

Likewise, it is of interest to note that some Ahnaaf have also accepted this explanation. Amongst them being Allaamah Qaawamud-deen As-Sakaakiee in Miraajuj-Darayah Sharhi-Hidaayah, Mulla al-Haddaad al-Hindee Ijoompooree in Sharh al-Hidaayah (1/48 manuscript form) and Allaamah Akmaludddeen al-Baarboortee in Al-Anaayah Haashiyah Hidaayah (1/201). These and others have stated that this aayah commands us to sacrifice. However, this does not contradict the explanation which we have mentioned above.

Therefore, both explanations are correct and is, of course, widely known that many matters of benefit may be deduced from a single aayah.

Hadeeth No. 8

The servant of the Prophet, Anas bin Maalik, may Allaah be pleased with him, also mentions the same explanation for the above aayah. (Tafseer Daraal-Mantoor (6/403)).

Hadeeth No. 9

The explainer of the Qur’aan, Abdullah ibn Abbaas, may Allaah be pleased with him, narrates whilst explaining the tafseer of “Wanhar,” that, “In the prayer the right hand should be put on the left by the chest.” (Darr al-Mantoor (6/403)).

Explanation

Ibn Abbaas from amongst the Companions was known for his knowledge of Tafseer and it was the Prophet who had made a special supplication to increase his knowledge and understanding of the religion as is reported in Saheeh Bukhara. Therefore, his explanation of this matter is a great proof for those who understand.

Hadeeth No. 10

Abdullaah ibn Jaabir al-Bayaadee, may Allaah be pleased with him, narrates from Uqbah ibn Abee Aish’ah, “I saw him (the Companion) in his prayer and the right hand was placed upon his left elbow and forearm and its chain of narration is Hasan.” (From Haiithamee in Mujnu’a az-Zawa’id (2/105) and Thiqaat of Ibn Hibbaan (5/228)).

Explanation

This narration is mawqoof as it reaches a Companion together with his action and this same narration is brought by Imaam ibn as-Sakan with the extra wording, “That the Prophet would also do the same.”

It is not difficult to deduce that this narration will be seen as originating with the Prophet and being Marfoo. Of course, the above mentioned position of placing the hands upon the chest shall remain as was discussed in the first hadeeth.

It is clear from these ten above mentioned narrations that the Prophetic way is to place the hands upon the chest and likewise the action of the Companions confirm the same.

Allaamah Mubaarakpooree writes in Tuhaa (2/215) that this narration is Saheeh and, “…above the navel …” means the chest as is proven from the various other ahadeeth.

Another crucial point is that those who have written extensively about the life of the Prophet have also stated that he would place his hands upon his chest whilst performing prayer. Thus:

(a) Imaam Ibn Qayim in Kitaab as-Salah (p. 187) states that the Prophet, after saying the takbeer, would put his right hand upon his left elbow and arm upon his chest.

(f) My grandfather Abu Turaab in his book Thamr Aakhirah (translation of Safar-Sada’ah p. 26) in manuscript form, writes, “After this, he (ṣalallahu ‘alayhi wasallam) would put his right hand upon his left on his chest and this is what is reported in Ibn Khuzaimah and to place the hands below the navel is not proven from any saheeh hadeeth.”

In summary therefore he (ṣalallahu ‘alayhi wasallam) would place his hands upon his chest in the prayer. Any person who professes love for the Prophet (ṣalallahu ‘alayhi wasallam) after knowing the above will always put his hands upon his chest and not below the navel in the prayer. As Allaaah says in the Quraan, “Say if you want Allaaah to love you then follow me and Allaaah shall love you.”

The Prophet himself stated, “The one who loves my way and sunnah, has loved me and the one who loves me will be with me in paradise.” (Tirmidhee)

Dear readers, now that the matter has been clarified from the Quran and hadeeth what remains after this is ...

__Proof from the Hanafi Scholars__

1. Badrud-deen al-Ainee writes in Umdatul-Qaaree explantion of Saheeh al-Buhhaari (5/279, Al-Muneeriyah Print), “Imaam Shaafiee has taken proof from Saheeh Ibn Khuzaimah which mentions the Prophet placing his hands upon his chest and it is this saying which Imaam Nawawee in Al-Khulaasah and Imaam Ibn Daajeex Taqiyud-deen in his book Al-Imaam have respectively mentioned. The author of Hidaayah has utilised another hadeeth as proof for us (Ahnaad) that the Prophet’s Sunnah was to place the hands below the navel. But this saying is not proven from the Prophet but it is the saying of Alee.”

Dear readers, this clearly shows that Imaam Ainee accepts the proof to place the hands upon the chest as reaching the Prophet (ṣalallahu ‘alayhi wasallam) and, in contrast, he does not authenticate the placing of the hands below the navel but calls it the saying of Alee. However even this saying of Alee is not proven from Alee himself as is reported in Musnad Ahmad (1/110) and its chain includes Abdul-Rahmaan ibn Iishaq al Wasitee Abu Shayba, of whom there has been severe criticism. Imaam Ahmad and Haakim call him munkar (rejected), Yahyaa ibn Ma’een has called him matroog (abandoned), Imaam Ibn Hibbaan has stated that he used to change the narrations and chain of narrators and that he used to bring abandoned narrations from famous people. To take any narration from him is haram. Likewise, Bukaari, Abu Zurah, Nisa’ee, Abu Dawood, Ibn Sa’d, Yaqoob ibn Suyuun and others have called him weak (refer to Meezan al ‘Iidaal (2/54) and Tahdeeb al-Tahdeeb (1/134).

Furthermore, Aliaamah Ibn al-Ajnee in his book Al-Khasf al-Haththees has mentioned him under the categories of those who would fabricate hadeeth and upon such a mans narrations no Muslim can rely. Indeed even Imaam Zailee Hanafee in Nasbur-Raayah (1/314) and Abdul-Haay Lucknowee Hanafee in Haashiya Hidaayah (2/102) quote from Imaam Nawawee that this narration is weak by consensus. Likewise, Shaikh Ibn Humaan in Fathul-Qadeer explanation of Al Hidaayah (p. 201) mentions the same.

2. Aliaamah Ibn Najeen Hanafee states in Bahr-ar-Raqaaiq Shahk Kunz Ad Dakayk (1/320), “There is no hadeeth of such a level as to permit its being taken as proof that the Prophet placed his hands at a specific place in the prayer, except for one hadeeth of Was’il, may Allaaah be pleased with him, (which has been mentioned as hadeeth number 3).
3. Ibn Ameerul-Haaj in Munniyyah al-Musalli states the above also.

4. Mulla Haddad Jowwpooree in Sharh Hidaayah (p. 407) in manuscript form, states that the proof of Imaam Shafi‘ee is the Hadeeth of Waail, may Allah be pleased with him. As far as the narration of Alee is concerned which states that the Prophets way was to place the hands below the navel, then this narration by consensus is weak. Further proof consolidating its weakness is the narration of Alee in explanation that ‘wanhar’ is to place the hands upon the chest. ‘An-Naahir’ is known as the upper part of the chest and this is why the tafsir is such. As for the one who goes against this narration, it is obligatory for him to follow the hadeeth of Waail. Having understood the above, it is incorrect to say that putting the hands below the navel is a symbol of respect and humility, since this is contradictory to the hadeeth.

Dear reader you will see that these proofs are from respective and authoritative Hanafee scholars, especially Ameerul-Haaj who is seen to be close in rank to his teacher Ibn Humaaam Hanafee. We can understand the following important points from these sayings:

1. It is authenically proven to put the hands on the chest in prayer.
2. It is obligatory to follow this hadeeth.
3. Alee, may Allah be pleased with him, has explained the verse, ‘wanhar’ to mean placing the hands upon the chest.
4. The verification of the action of Alee as mentioned in various narrations.
5. It is also proven from the Qur’aan to place the hands upon the chest.
6. There is no authentic narration stating that the Prophet placed his hands below the navel in prayer. Rather, all those narration which are mentioned in this regard are weak and unacceptable.

Our Hanafee brothers should learn a lesson from these statements and should abandon following a matter which is not proven from any source but is merely speculative.

An Open Challenge
I challenge all the Hanafees upon this Earth to prove one single authentic narration which clearly states that the Prophet placed his hands below the navel whilst in prayer, upon the condition that the hadeeth, with its full chain of narration, is to be found in a recognised book of hadeeth. If such a challenge is met a thousand rupees reward shall be awarded—but the Hanafee shall never be able to meet this challenge.

As for the narration which is mentioned from Ibn Abee Shaybah, that the Prophet placed his hands below his navel, then this narration does not even have a basis for its existence. Alhamdulillah, we have both the original manuscript and the printed version of this book but neither of them has this narration recorded within it. So the liars have been caught out.

It should be known that the leader of the Hanafees, Anwar Shah Kashmiri in Faith al-Baari Sharh Sahheeh al-Bukhaari (2/26) confirms what is stated above when he states that he researched many copies but that in none of them could he find this narration of placing the hands below the navel.

We therefore strongly advise the Hanafee brothers to follow the truth especially as Imaam Abu Hanifah said, "When an authentic narration is presented then that is my madhhab," (As-Shafee 1/380) and he also said, "When a hadeeth of the Prophet is present leave my saying," (Hazaan Tur Rawayat p. 25 manuscript). Therefore if one truly follows Imaam Abu Hanifah then he must submit to the hadeeth especially when the scholars of hadeeth and jurisprudence accept it.

It is now important to state sayings of some of the generally accepted and unananimously respected scholars in regard to this matter.

1. Mirzaa Mazhar Jaan Janaan is seen as a leader in the Nqashbandiyyah. He died in 1195H. Concerning him, Nawwaab Siddquee Hasan Khaan writes in Abyajaal-Uloom 1900, "Whilst sitting in the prayer he would point with his finger and he would place his hands on his chest and a year before his death he would emphasise the reading of Fatihah behind the Imaam also." The above has also been quoted from Aalamaah Sayyid Shareef Abdul-Hayy al-Hussaini al-Hanafee in his Nazat-al-Hifaaad (6/52).
2. Shaikh Abul-Hasan Sindhee Kabeer is known for all the trials he was put to for his belief in putting the hands upon the chest. Muhammad Aabid Sindhee in his book Tarajimush-Shuyookh, states that the Shaikh performed this action based upon hadeeth and whilst going into, coming out of ruku and going up for the third rak'ah he would do Raf-al-Yadaan (raising of the hands) and place his hands upon his chest. In his time Shaykh Abu Tayyib Sindhee would debate with Abul-Hasan, but could provide no answers when the proofs were given to him.

So he went and complained to the Qaadhi (judge) of Madinah who arrested Abul-Hasan. When the Qaadie heard his proofs he realised that this man was a specialist in the various branches of the religion and it was befitting to release him. It remained like this for many years for the Shaikh. Then a time came when a Qaadhi was appointed who was a Hanafie blind follower and it was not long before a complaint was made to him concerning the Shaikh’s views. Abul-Hasan was summoned and ordered to stop Raf-al-Yadaan and to place the hands below the navel. However Shaikh Abul-Hasan merely answered that he would not obey this order. Therefore the Shaikh was imprisoned for six days in a dark place which was extremely uncomfortable. Thereafter the people of Madinah began to come to the noble shaikh and advise him to accept what the Qaadhi was saying so he could be freed. The Shaikh replied that he would not perform any action which was not authentically proven from the Prophet and that he would not abandon that which was proven. Thereafter the Shaikh took an oath that he would continue to do this. After this many people went to the Qaadhi to request the release of the Shaikh. The Qaadie reluctantly allowed this, but vowed that if he ever saw the Shaikh putting his hands upon his chest he would put him back in prison.

The Shaikh was eventually released and thereafter he would cover himself with a cloth and put his hands upon his chest whilst in prayer. Later when the news of the death of the Qaadie reached him, the Shaikh, who was praying, flung the cloth away and placed his hands upon his chest openly.

Dear readers this is true eemaan—to accept all trials and tribulations but not to leave the Sunnah. This Shaikh was a Scholar who prepared footnotes and explanations upon the six books of hadeeth and Musnad Ahmad. One should take a lesson from his biography.

3. My father would also place his hands upon his chest and he is a figure who was respected by the Ahnaaf. Sayyid Ehsanullah Rashidiee writes in Masakal-Insaal (p. 28) that there is actually a book which can be found by Abu Turaab in Arabic, Darjud-Daroor Fee Wadul-Aydee alas-Sudoor, wherein he stated the following points:

It is authentically proven from the Prophet to place the hands upon the chest and that there is no authentic hadeeth to put the hands below the navel.

Further Imaam Shaafi’ee’s actual madhhab is to place the hands upon the chest, and after finding an authentic hadeeth, Ahmad Ibn Hanbal started putting his hands upon the chest also. Also Imaam Maalik mentions putting the hands upon the chest as many Hanafiees have recorded.

It is thus clear from the above that the Imaams Maalik, Shaafi’ee and Ahmad Ibn Hanbal advocated placing the hands upon the chest.

One should note that when there is a difference in sayings then to reach a conclusion it is obligatory to return to the saheeh hadeeth and to the Prophet. This is because Allah says that whenever you differ, then refer back to Allah and his Messenger.

In this matter, there is no authentic hadeeth of the Prophet stating that the hands should be placed below the navel. Rather we find hadeeth proving that the hands should be placed upon the chest, so the matter is clear.

There is no special merit in placing the hands below the navel. Rather it is a sign of disrespect as below the navel is the private part.

Also from the ahaadeeth of Waal Ibn Hajj (no. 2) and Hulb it is proven specifically that the Prophet placed his hands upon his chest. This was not only a ‘one off’ but a continuous action and Tawoos’s hadeeth, even though Mursal, is a strong support.

It is also of worth to note that the word ‘Kaana’ in the above ahaadeeth refers to a past action and one which continued.

Therefore, we understand from the above analysis of the Shaikh that:

1. He himself believed in placing the hands upon the chest.
2. This is what is proven from the Prophet.
3. This is what he (ﷺ) was continuously practising in prayer.
4. There is no proof whatsoever from the Prophet for placing the hands below the navel.
5. It is disrespectful to place the hands below the navel.

I invoke Allah to show us all the straight path and for us to act upon the sunnah of his beloved prophet Muhammed.
